

If there are n sets, you will have to do $n(n-1)/2$ comparisons whenever you go through a row using minhash. However, LSH reduces the number of comparisons you have to do. You would only have to compare two sets if they have at least one identical band.